DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For President.
WOODROW WILSON,
of New Jersey.

For Vice President.
THOS. R. MARSHALL,
of Indiana.

A company of Texas soldiers had their baptism of fire Friday. They exchanged shots with some Greasers across the river, but nobody was hit.

The Indiana Progressives have ousted W. H. Dye, their national committeeman, because he voted to endorse Hughes in an effort "to murder the Progressive Party."

President Wilson on Friday nominated Judge John Clarke, federal district judge at Cleveland, Ohio, as Justice Hughes' successor on the Supreme Court Bench. He is 59 years old and a Democrat.

Kentucky Progressive leaders, in session at Louisville, decided to stand for a national third party ticket and repudiated the action of Roosevelt and Perkins in deserting the Bull Moose ship.

If the government catches and ex-terminates the sharks along the Jersey coast let the next effort be to stop the paper sharks from devouring the newspaper publishers of the United States.

Capt. F. R. Hunt, of the tug Vigilant, reported Friday at Charleston, S. C., that the naval collier Hector, bound from Charleston for Santo Domingo with about sixty marines aboard, had sunk nine miles southeast of Charleston Lightship. The fate of the crew and marines is unknown.

The many friends of Col. I. B. Nall, editor of the "Farmers Home Journal," will regret to learn that his condition shows little improvement. Early in May Col. Nall had a fall and broke his right shoulder, and while he stood the shock much better than was expected on account of his advanced age, he has not made the improvement hoped for.—Farmers Home Journal.

Affectation.

The wild havoc affectation makes in that part of the world which should be most polite is visible wherever we turn our eyes; it pushes men not only into impertinences in conversation, but also in their premeditated speeches.
At the bar it torments the bench, whose business it is to cut off all super-fluities in what is spoken before it by the practitioner; as well as several little pieces of injustice which arise from the law itself. I have seen it make a man run from the purpose before a judge who was, when at the bar himself, so close and logical a pleader that, with all the pomp of eloquence in his power, he never spoke a word too much.—Steele.

That Sunday Feeling.

On one of the holidays the family sat around discussing things of no interest to little Eddie, who sat quietly by his mother. Looking up at her, he said, "Mother, this day acts like Sunday to me."

Rather Difficult.

Cheerful One (to newcomer, on being asked what the trenches are like): —"If yer stands up yer gets sniped; if yer keeps down yer gets drowned; if yer moves about yer gets shelled; and if yer stands still yer gets court-marshaled for frostbite."—Punch.

Horse Supply Undiminished.

This might easily be a popular "neigh" of the pastures of America, where equine mothers look in vain for the little foals that last year trotted at their sides. Since the beginning of the war about 500,000 horses and 10, 000 mules have been sent abroad, the horses averaging a cost to the purchasing governments of $175 at the port of shipment. However, owing to an action of the department of agriculture in 1913, which stimulated interest in the raising of horses, this drain upon our supply of domestic animals has not lessened the number within our borders, there being now about 24,000,000 horses and 4,500,000 mules in the United States.—Christian Herald.

Famous Curfew Tower.

Chertsey, Surrey, can vie with Ban-bury in curfew memories, though it is only in recent years that the old custom of tolling at sundown has been revived there. The original curfew bell, which hung in Chertsey abbey, tolled for the funeral of Henry VI. murdered in the Tower of London and hurried to Chertsey for burial, "without priest, clerk, torch or taper, singing or saying." The village was also the scene of the legend—first put into story form and dramatized by Albert Smith —which relates how Blanche Heriot, to save the life of her lover Neville, condemned to die at sundown, climbed the curfew tower and held the clapper of the great bell, determined that "cur-few shall not ring tonight."—London Chronicle.

Appropriate.

"I want a pair of earrings, cheap but purty. They be fur a present." "Yes, sir," said the jeweler. "You want something rather quiet, I suppose?" "Well, doan't 'ee go to making they too quiet, now," replied the farmer. "My girl be deaf in one ear."—Tit-Bits.

Could Not Write.

Versailles, Ky.—Mrs. Eliza Green, of this place, writes: "I could not write all the different pains I had, when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it.
Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you. At the nearest drug Muscles Need Exercise.

Five hundred muscles of the human body demand the sort of daily exercise which will enable them to perform occasional unusual tasks required of them, as well as their many functions, and the exercise should be well balanced. Sometimes work furnishes this exercise by fortunate adjustment of mental and manual labor. Breathing fresh air is a form of exercise, as it refreshes and stimulates the respiratory organs. Authorities declare that one breathes 3,000 cubic feet of air every hour and the condition of the air ought to be carefully considered. Also, the condition of the blood and its free circulation are of prime importance, and they are directly affected by value of foods and digestion. All the blood goes in and out of the heart once every minute, and the stomach of the average adult is supposed to manufacture about nine pounds of gastric juice daily.

The Best Book

Of course the best book is the Bible. The man who said the best book was the pocket book, tried to say something smart and failed.

A bank book is a better book than a pocket book.
The thief might steal your pocket book, or you might lose it in many ways. It's gone for good, too.
But in case of accident we will gladly supply you with another bank book and your funds will always be secured in our bank. Place your dependence on a bank book in preference to a pocket book every time. We will furnish you a nice one free any time you wish to open an account
